Yanks Battle For Eniwetok

By CHARLES H. McMURTRY

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, Feb. 19 (AP)—Army and Marine invasion forces, speeding up the breath-catching tempo of Pacific offensive, battled Japanese today for Eniwetok in the westernmost Marshalls while Americans awaited confirmation of an indicated sea-air triumph over mighty Truk.

Firm beachheads were won Thursday at Eniwetok, last lifeline for bypassed Nipponese garrisons throughout the Marshalls, while guns of battleships thundered a protective barrage and carriers supplied air cover.

The assault forces then moved in strength against enemy pillbox defenses already battered by repeated plane attacks.

KNOX SEES VICTORY

Only the day before at Truk, 750 miles southwest of Eniwetok, an American sea armada sent hundreds of bombing planes to open

BULLETIN

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—A third United States carrier task force attacked the eastern Marshall Island atolls of Taroa and Maloelap Wednesday while one task force was carrying out operations against Truk and another was attacking Eniwetok, the Tokyo radio said today in a broadcast recorded bq NBC.

the first attack of the war on enemy fleet concentrations in the heavily-fortified lagoon. Although radio silence since has shrouded the perhaps prolonged action, Navy Secretary Frank Knox said confidently in Washington, "I think this attack was a victory."

Monday, only two days prior to this thunderbolt stroke, a big force of land-based Liberators dropped 55 tons of bombs in the war's first attack on Ponape, Gibraltar-like enemy fortress in the eastern Carolines, 400 miles this side of Truk.

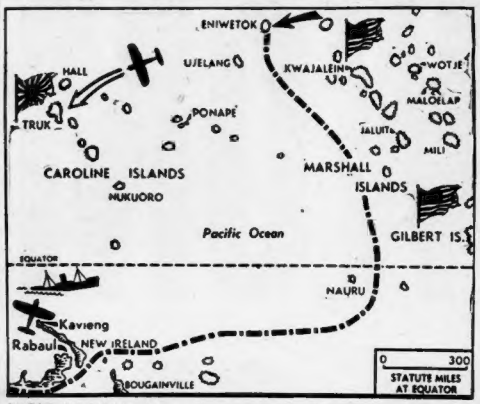
Invasion forces moved far in back of many other fortified Marshalls bases when they struck Thursday at Eniwetok. The 21 by 17 mile atoll has at least one and possibly two or three airfields and several seaplane bases.

OUR TROOPS LAND

"Troops went ashore under the cover of battleship gunfire and with the close support of low flying naval aircraft," Admiral Nimitz said.

Portentious implications were to be found in the gathering Pacific offensive, which extends for more than 3700 miles from Paramushiro, shelled Feb. 4 by American warships, ranging into the Kuriles, north of Tokyo, down to the fortress of Rabaul.

Capture of invaded Eniwetok would hasten the process of allowing other enemy Marshall bases such as Maloelap, Wotje, Jaluit and Mili to "wither on the vine," as one military leader put it, due to severed supply lines.



WEST PACIFIC—Map shows how Yanks are keeping Japs busy in the Pacific . . . with upper arrow indicating amphibious attack on Eniwetok atoll, while plane symbol and open arrow point to Jap base at Truk, which was attacked by Yank carrier-based planes Wednesday. Plane and sinking ship symbol indicate furious Allied bomber attack on 17-ship Jap formation north of Kavieng in which at least 15 Nip ships went down . . . from Monday to Wednesday. Broken line is extent of Jap domination.

Yanks K. O. 12 Ships To Cut Off Rabaul Oil

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Feb. 19 (AP)—Twelve Japanese merchantmen rushing oil and supplies to Rabaul and Kavieng were wiped out along with an escorting destroyer and two corvettes during a three-day attack by Allied bombers northwest of New Ireland, headquarters announced today.

At most, only two merchantmen eluded the explosives of Catalinas, Liberators and Mitchells which from Monday night until Wednesday morning destroyed 36,500 tons of merchant shipping.

Reds Now Head For Krivoi Rog

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Feb. 19 (AP)—Red army forces struck vigorously into the shattered ranks of Field Marshal von Mannstein's troops in the Dnieper bend today while on the northern front the battle drew hourly nearer the key rail city of Pskov, following capture of Staraya Russa below Lake Ilmen, 100 miles to the east.

Next objective before the Ukrainian armies of Gens. Konev, Vatutin and Malinovsky, which apparently are now joined, are the cities of Krivoi Rog, great iron ore center in the southeastern Ukraine, and Kherson, 90 miles south of Krivoi Rog at the mouth of the Dnieper river.

Krivoi Rog already has been outflanked and dispatches said the position of the German garrison there is extremely critical.

At Kherson, Russian forces already are reported to be massing on the banks of the Dnieper opposite the city ready for the command to launch an all-out attack.

Capture of Staraya Russa and the railroad town of Shimsk, 30 miles to the northwest, together with the towns and villages in between, gave the Red army a three-armed operation against Pskov. Russian troops as a result are now able to drive on the "key to the Baltics" from the east, northeast and north.

In the Red army in the north follows the usual Russian tactics its units will fan out over the vast countryside and before long ski troopers will be threatening German positions in the area from the south.

40,000 Nazis Beaten Back 4 Times in Italy

By KENNETH L. DIXON

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, Feb. 19 (AP)—Allied forces are holding their lines intact on the battle-churned Anzio beachhead after smashing back attacks by four full German divisions—40,000 to 60,000 men—in the strongest counter blows yet delivered, Allied headquarters announced today.

(In a dispatch from Daniel De Luce, Associated Press correspondent in the bridgehead, at noon said the German offensive, renewed with greater force than ever, was being held, and American infantry and tanks had retaken ground during two hours' fighting for which the Germans paid a heavy price the day before.)

The Fifth Army on the main front to the east, reinforced by New Zealand and Indian troops, tightened a ring on Cassino from the northeast, northwest and south, winning two heights west of Mt. Cassino and reaching the railway station south of the town after throwing 250,000 shells into the ruined stronghold.

KNOCK HOLE IN OUR LINE

The powerful Nazi assault below Rome knocked a hole in the Allied line near Carroceto, 10 miles above Anzio, but Fifth Army tanks and infantry struck back in several successful local counter-attacks, "causing heavy casualties to the enemy" and making some progress.

An Allied officer declared: "Unlike previous enemy attacks, this is obviously the fullest-scale effort to throw the Allied forces back into the sea."

Front dispatches said the Germans were attacking with even greater fury today, and that Allied troops were defending their lines in the grimmest fighting. The Germans sprayed the whole area with shellfire.

(The Berlin communique said the Nazis had advanced 2½ miles south of Carroceto, or within 7½ miles of Anzio. The Germans claimed they were still holding the Cassino railroad station, but the Algiers radio said Allied troops occupied it.)

NAZIS HURL THEIR ALL

Field Marshal Kesselring was counterattacking with units drawn from all over Europe, throwing in the full weight of his force without regard to costs.

At least four divisions, including the third armored Grenadiers, were trying to smash through to Anzio, Allied nerve center on the beachhead, while other units brought pressure all along the perimeter.

Withering Fifth Army fire took a heavy toll of the attackers. Allied warships and planes aided the defense.

2 U. S. SUBS SINK 13 JAP SUPPLY SHIPS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Two American submarines, operating deep in Japanese territory, sank 13 merchant vessels before returning to their home port.

The sinkings, reported by the Navy today, brought to 597 the number of Jap ships sunk, probably sunk or damaged by submarines since the war started.

The Navy said the patrols were carried out "deep in Japanese empire waters"—the first time such specific information has been given on sub operations. It indicated growing confidence in the strength and ability of submarines to carry on their attacks even in most hostile territory.

The Navy also disclosed in a communique the 13 enemy ships had a total tonnage of 68,200, an average of 5200 tons each. Craft of such size would be of major importance in the continuing efforts of the Japs to main supply lines to bases scattered through the Pacific.

The new successes raised to 447 the number of Japanese ships of all types that American submarines have destroyed. In addition, thy probably have sunk 36 others and damaged 114.

Outlook in War Suits Patterson

DALLAS, Feb. 19 (AP)—Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson told a press conference today "the situation in Italy is in hand, and prospects are promising."

"There is no doubt about our ability to hold the Anzio beachhead," he added.

Of the Pacific, Patterson said: "Our plan is to lick Hitler first. At the same time we will enlarge our offensive in the Pacific.

"The progress against Japan may go quickly."

Raiders Batter London

By JAMES M. LONG

LONDON, Feb. 19 (AP)—German heavy and medium bombers, striking in double the strength of any recent raid, hit London in three waves last night and left fires, smashed homes and casualties in their wake.

It was the heaviest raid on the British capital since the sustained assaults of 1940-41.

The best unofficial estimates were that about 150 of the night raiders slashed at the capital area. Although not all of them penetrated the umbrella of terrific anti-aircraft fire thrown over the city, the damage was the most widespread of any attack of the past year and casualties were left in half a dozen districts.

Fires still glowed against the dawn today as searching parties dug through wreckage for victims.

Twelve persons were known to have died and a number of others were injured when high explosives struck a preserve factory and homes in the working class districts. Three persons were still trapped under the ruins of the factory.

Ten other persons were believed to have been killed when a bomb struck a sector which had already suffered three direct hits during previous raids, and an unknown number was killed when a home for the aged received a direct hit.

Supplies in the district headquarters of the British Red Cross were destroyed by flames started by incendiaries.

The Berlin radio said "hundreds of planes" participated in the raid and acknowledged loss of seven bombers, but announced later two of them had limped back to emergency fields.

Tons of high explosives and thousands of firebombs showered down, hitting at least three churches, two hospitals, a number of school buildings, a hotel, a large suburban store, and many apartments and rows of homes.

Guards said the barrage of anti-aircraft fire was the heaviest ever thrown at enemy raiders.

American soldiers who watched the raid, which lasted approximately an hour, said it was "the most terrifying spectacle we ever saw. We don't see how those German pilots up there could stand that barrage."

2 Women Found Slain In So. End, Franklin Pk.

Boston's daylight today revealed the fiendish murders of two women, both ravished by their killers . . . both battered savagely until life left them. Victim No. 1, stripped of all her clothing except shoes and hose, was found sprawled on rubble in the abandoned cellar excavation of a vacant lot on Acton st., near Washingtton st., South End.

Police at the murder site questioned scores of neighbors, as well as patrons and employes of stores and cafes, without finding anyone who knew the woman or had seen her in the vicinity.

Two waitresses of a Washington st. cafe erroneously identified her as Mrs. Sarah Mars, a South End woman, after examining a police photograph taken at the morgue. However, Mrs. Mars heard of the report and walked into the Warren ave. station a short time later.

2D VICTIM IDENTIFIED

Victim No. 2, partly unclad, the right side of her head smashed, was discovered in wind-swept Franklin Park, off Playstead rd., about 200 yards from the bear dens.

She was identified as Mrs. Juliet Vinson, 50, of Jess st., Jamaica Plain, by her son, Frank, with whom she lived. He gave police the name of a man with whom she had been on friendly terms and they launched a city-wide search for him.

In the South End slaying, the murderer had spread his victim's clothing on the cellar rubble, then placed the body on them. He had killed the woman by repeated blows on the head, then carried her down several steps, leaving a trail of blood that marked his crime and her death.

Discoverer of the body was Thomas J. Reardon, 33, an Acton st. resident and city truck driver. He had been obliged to climb to the top of his truck in preparing it for the day's work and saw the body from that height. It was concealed from pedestrian view by a wooden fence around the crumbling cellar walls.

TERRIBLY BEATEN

Police brought dozens of neighbors to the scene and questioned scores of cafe and restaurant patrons and employes before they gained a clue to the woman's identity.

Her attacker had been so savage in beating her to death that her features were almost unrecognizable.

Capt. Leo Masuret of the Warren ave. station said she was about five feet tall and weighed 120 to 130 pounds. Among the clothing, so methodically folded under her body by the slayer, was a coat bearing the trademark of a well known Boston furrier.

Medical Examiner Timothy Leary said:

"She was assaulted in a most

F.D. Hints Hope Of Red-Pole Pact

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—A hint from President Roosevelt that the United States is keeping its diplomatic door open for settlement of differences between Poland and Russia was made public today by Rep. Mruk (R.) of New York.

The President wrote Mruk: "Our government . . . will not rest in its efforts to free all victims of aggression and to establish a just and enduring peace based on the sovereign equality of all peace-loving states, large and small."

The President's letter was in answer to a request from Mruk for a "frank and realistic clarification" of this country's stand on the Russo-Polish question.

Radio Restored War Reporters

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, Feb. 19 (AP)—The Allied command has restored use of Army radio to correspondents on the Anzio beachhead.

Correspondents were not permitted to use the radio for three days because the command said their dispatches at one period had been unduly pessimistic and had resulted in unjustified alarm among the people at home.

The correspondents' reply was that they had described the course of battle as they saw it.

During the period they were denied use of the radio, Dispatches were sent out of the beachhead by courier.

Boston Boys OK'd in AEF 'Weed Out'

By AUSTEN LAKE

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (By Air Transport)—Only one among the many hundreds of New England soldiers with whom I've talked has shown signs of crackup in morale. That was not long ago when I visited a down-country infantry garrison, and a lad began a loud, bitter harangue against the Army, its food, its confinement, its discipline.

His tone was strident, his gesture violent, and his language acid. And it came as a startling shock—this torrent of tumbling words. For though every normal soldier has his private gripes and expels his inner poisons in a healthy "beef," this was different—the outpouring of a mind haunted by distortion and a spirit welling with maladjustment.

The boy continued for minutes at a headlong pace, while the surrounding circle of soldiery looked at him silently. That was the thing I noticed most! The rest just turned their eyes on him intently—without any accusation or feeling other than concerted curiosity—as men might watch the spasms of an epileptic. They said nothing, but just looked, while the unhappy lad's voice trailed from vehemence to uncertainty, and finally to a throaty sob. "I . . . I'm sorry," he stammered at last.

There was no rebuke as the youth went out, just a path of following eyes, until a sergeant said quietly, "The guy's cracking—he can't take it." There was no condemnation in his tone, and the talk was picked up where it began. (The boy is up for "reclassification" to more adjustable surroundings.)

I have lived with these ground soldiers for the last few months, have watched them wade for weeks through moist moors, or slog along roads on endless hikes, or push sleeplessly through the night, on eternal "problems," or drill for long hours like mechanical dolls. They have accepted discomforts that would make a novice wild or sick. And only once did I see one of them "fly off his chump," as they say it here.

There's a good and valid reason! For these men of this great assault theater are the survivors, the fit, the capable and the ones selected to meet the coming crisis. They may not know it, but these soldiers in the cold, fog-bound and rain swept areas of Britain, are "winners" of a great weeding-out process, in which they have purposely been exposed to ordeals of nerve muscle, to test them for stamina, will and moral fiber.

Most passed! A few didn't!

Admittedly non of them relish the life. All want to go home. Each has his pet peeves, and inner spasms. But they are taking it with a philosophic acceptance of the inevitable, and have earned the accolade of "good soldiers." I say with simple reverence, "I'm

Lake Discusses Chow With AEF Boys

Austen Lake, Boston American war correspondent in Britain with the Berlin-bound fighting men from New England, talks with the boys about one of their most important problems—food—in Monday's instalment of his interesting series.

"Every mess gets the same ration but not every mess gives its men the same grub," Lake learns from a Fall River mess sergeant who proves his point by earning the cheers of his hungry comrades by making Spam look like something else.

Read Monday's chapter in Lake's series for this enlightening story about Army chow. Along with it there will be messages by boys from Lowell, Brighton, Watertown, Jamaica Plain, Lawrence, Malden, East Boston, Lynn, Dorchester, Everett, Chelsea, Roxbury, Somerville and many other New England cities and towns.

Nazi Separate Peace Bids to Fail, Say Reds

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW, Feb. 19 (AP)—Failure of German efforts to make a separate peace with any of the Allies was predicted today by the Soviet trade union journal, War and the Working Class."

Without referring directly to Pravda's recent Cairo rumor of Anglo-German separate peace talks, the magazine said Germany has been widely employing "unofficial diplomacy and underhanded methods" in a classic maneuver to escape the full burden of inevitable defeat.

Naming Franz von Papen, German minister to Turkey, and Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, Reichs minister without portfolio, as the main agents, the magazine said:

"Of course we cannot doubt that the number of such peace ambassadors is much greater but it's most likely that the other participants in such intrigues are remaining in the dark for various reasons.

"There is no doubt that under the conditions of the present World War, complete defeat will end the operations of the German war machine on the battlefield. Most likely this will also be the fate of all attempts of bandit Hitlerite diplomacy."

The magazine paid tribute to present and future Allied operations and said the front is "incessantly approaching the borders of the third Reich."

"The devastating bombardment of German cities by the Allied air forces, together with the inevitable invasion of western Europe by Allied troops announce the death in the near future of the robber Hitlerite band," it continued.

The magazine said alarm was spreading among Germany's satellites and served these grave warnings on Finland and Rumania:

"The Finnish servants of Hitler who recently bragged of their participation in the blockade of Leningrad and jibbered about a greater Finland extending to the Urals now are suffering their unconcealed fear of the payment they will have to make for their crimes.

"The Rumanians also are showing fear but neither the Dniester nor the Carpathian mountains will save them from vengeance.

"Severance with the Germans has become inevitable for those circles among the satellite countries which are able to make individual decisions and do not want to undergo to the end the fate of the German Fascists."

Red Demands on Finland

Here are the minimum terms Russia has made on Finland, according to diplomatic sources in Washington:

Unconditional surrender.

Direct Finnish military and civilian co-operation.

Soviet occupation of Finland's chief cities and rail centers.

No armistice until all Finnish cities have been occupied and garrisoned by Red troops.

All Finnish air and sea bases to be placed at Russia's disposal.

Finland to guarantee that German troops now in northern Finland do not escape to Norway.

Soviet occupation of Hangoe island, Finland's "Little Gibraltar," leased to Russia after the end of 1940 war.

Frontier rectifications in the region of Salla and southeastern Karelia, with the 1940 frontier otherwise unchanged.

Reds Mass 150,000 To Spur Finn Pact

By JOHN E. LEE

LONDON, Feb. 19 (INS)—The Red army, according to a Stockholm dispatch, has massed from ten to 12 divisions—150,000 to 180,000 men—on the Finnish front to add emphasis to the conditions reportedly laid down by Russia for termination of the Russo-Finnish war.

This force was understood to be ready for a drive into Finland if the Finns reject the Soviet Union's "minimum demands."

Optimism in Helsinki is giving way to gloom due to the fact that 24 more hours have passed with no results forthcoming from Russo-Finnish negotiations.

Juho Paasikivi, leading Finnish statesman now in Stockholm, had another long talk Wednesday with Mme. Kollontay, Soviet ambassador to Sweden.

Hiccough Girl O. K After Operation

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—Anna Mayer, 22, whose 47-day attack of hiccoughs was ended yesterday by an operation performed by an Army surgeon on emergency leave, was reported "doing very well" today.

Capt. Lester Samuels, who had treated Miss Mayer during an earlier hiccough attack, operated yesterday on her phrenic nerve which controls movement of the diaphram. He said he was confident she would recover completely. Capt. Samuels was granted Army leave to attend Miss Mayer after she appealed to President Roosevelt.

PERIL OF RED DOMINATION SEEN BY WILEY

By DAVID SENTNER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19—The bludgeoning negotiations being conducted by Soviet Russia with Finland and the exiled Polish government — without consultation with the United States or Britain —indicates the impending Red diplomatic "blitz" through Europe.

The Russian system threatens to engulf Europe, supplanting socialism and tattered democracy on the Continent, Sen. Alexander Wiley (R.) of Wisconsin today declared in an interview.

"Soviet Russia appears to be bypassing its United Nations partners in the current unilateral moves by Moscow to take over Finland and Poland," he said.

"Russia is dealing with Finland and Poland—alone—and has made it clear she considers it none of our business when she rejected the American State Department's offer to help arbitrate the Polish-Russian border dispute.

"The Europe of tomorrow faces complete domination of Russia and Moscow is no longer making any pretense to the contrary.

"Will the Russian domination of Europe mean the perpetuation of the Four Freedoms?"

BARUCH PLAN TO BE FOUGHT IN SENATE

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Asserting the Baruch postwar report poses the question whether "the economic destiny of the country is to be settled by executive directives," Chairman George (D.) of Georgia announced today the Senate postwar committee would introduce legislation next week to carry out its own plan for the transition from war to peace.

George declared the Baruch report apparently is designed to "do the whole job by executive order under Justice Byrnes" (War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes).

The George committee has drafted a program for postwar reconversion of industry that parallels in many respects the report made yesterday by Bernard M. Baruch.

"The two reports sharply outline the question of whether the economic destiny of the country is to be settled by executive directives or by general policies established by the elected representatives of the people, George declared.

"That issue is so basic that the two viewpoints can never be reconciled. A bill embracing the provisions of the postwar committee report will be introduced in the Senate early next week."

BACK-TO-LAND MOVEMENT IN VET AID BILL

By FRANK REILLY

Boston American Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19—In addition to unemployment compensation for those veterans who need it and grants of money for educational purposes, the American Legion's omnibus bill for veterans would make it possible for ex-servicemen to buy homes and farms with down payments of only 5 per cent.

This provision of the "bill of rights for G-I Joe and G-I Jane" is winning substantial support for the rehabilitation program from farm state congressmen.

Many representatives point out that under the terms specified in the omnibus bill, veterans would be able to purchase farms to a maximum value of $12,500 and homes up to $7500. Interest rates would be correspondingly low.

Should Congress adopt the Legion measure, many states would experience a real back-to-the-land movement prominent congressmen are convinced.

Foremost among the proponents of this feature of the legislative plan is Cong. Reid F. Murray of Wisconsin, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin's college of agriculture and for many years a professor of animal husbandry at that institution.

In his opinion, many veterans, including residents of New England, will avail themselves of any opportunity to achieve financial independence on farms.

Cong. William J. Miller of Wethersfield, Ct., an aviator who lost both legs in an airplane crash in the last war, said the omnibus bill is "the most comprehensive program for rehabilitation of veterans that it is possible to devise."

Bedaux Kills Himself In U. S. Traitor Cell

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (INS)—Charles E. Bedaux, famed industrialist and one-time friend of the Duke of Windsor, committed suicide while under arrest in Miami, Fla., on treason charges. This was revealed by the Justice Department today.

Charged with being a traitor to his American citizenship, the French-born man of mystery died last night in a Miami hospital as the result of an overdose of a sleeping potion taken while being held at the federal detention jail.

Charles E. Bedaux

In announcing Bedaux's death, the Justice Department also revealed for the first time the millionaire had been under arrest since November of 1942—when the Allies invaded Africa.

The announcement revealed the arrest of Bedaux also was the indirect cause of the death of two FBI agents—Percy E. Foxworth and Harold D. Haberfeld. The ace government sleuths were killed when their plane crashed in the Brazilian jungles in January, 1943. They were on their way to Africa to investigate Bedaux.

Bedaux was brought to Miami Dec. 23 under military escort from North Africa. He had been arrested in Algiers by orders of Gen. Eisenhower.

He is survived by his widow, Fern, a native of the United States now living in France, and a son, Charles Jr., believed to be in North Africa.

Bedaux was born in France 58 years ago and came to the United States during the First World War as a consulting engineer.

He was naturalized at Grand Rapids, Mich., in 1917, and during the next 20 years became wealthy as an advisor to industrialists on scientific management and production.

Bedaux, in signed statements before a special board of inquiry at Miami admitted close friendships among the highest ranking members of the Nazi party as well as leading members of the Vichy regime.

HOME IN BERCHTESGADEN

He rented a summer home at Berchtesgaden, the home of Hitler, in 1937, and there made the acquaintance of Capt. Fritz Weidemann, Otto Abetz, Hjalmar Schacht and other Nazis, the Department said.

When France fell in 1940, Bedaux made his chateau available to the American embassy. He traveled back and forth between free and occupied France and carried on negotiations with the Germans and the Vichy French.

After America entered the war, the Justice Department said Bedaux offered the German military authorities information in the files of his company at Amsterdam, Holland, about the Persian gulf oil refineries.

Bedaux was long a close friend of the Duke of Windsor. It was at the Bedaux chateau in Monts, France, that the former King of England married Wallis Warfield Simpson.

Bedaux achieved more prominence in 1937 when it was disclosed that he was arranging an American tour for the Duke and Duchess of Windsor. The announcement caused a stir in labor circles—where he was termed "that arch enemy of labor"—and the trip was called off.

15 Planes Hunt Lost Westover Bomber

ROME, N. Y., Feb. 19 (AP)—Fifteen planes took off from the Army air depot today in renewed search for an Army bomber last heard early yesterday passing over Syracuse, when its crew of eight was ordered to bail out during a blinding snowstorm.

The planes, equipped with parachutes loaded with food and medical supplies, were ordered to search an area "100 miles on either side of the line between Rochester and Albany."

The missing bomber radioed its home base at Westover Field, Mass., about 2 a. m. yesterday, it was circling over Syracuse municipal airport and was running out of gas and unable to land because of poor visibility.

Army officials at the airport here, announcing next of kin had been notified, listed the missing plane's crew as:

Flight Officer Wendell K. Ponder, Jackson, Miss.; Flight Officer Raymond A. Bickel, Springfield, Mass.; Sergt. Audrey H. Alexander, Rogersville, Ala.; Sergt. Kenneth M. Jones, Milwaukee; Sergt. Thomas C. Roberts, Dorchester; Sergt. Joseph M. Zebo, Pawtucket, R. I.; James O. Cozier, Tulsa, Okla., and Phillip R. Walton, Berkeley, Cal.

Backman Silent On Successor

Kenneth B. Backman, who submitted his resignation as regional OPA administrator, declined today to discuss the identity of his probable successor although admitting he had made a recommendation to OPA Administrator Chester Bowles.

Backman returned to Boston from Washington to clean up his affairs with the OPA preparatory to quitting "around March 1st, depending on how soon the new man is named."

He said he would take a one or two months' rest before resuming his job as general manager of Better Business Bureau. His work as consultant to Bowles will be on a payless basis, he said.

"Bowles is particularly interested in obtaining full participation by business in the compliance program," Backman said.

German Refugee's Own Story of Ruin

By CHARLES S. FOLTZ

MADRID, Feb. 19 (AP)—Eight days ago a German who must be called Hans Schmidt, because Hans says it's healthier that way, left Berlin for Spain by train. Here is the story of his trip in his own words:

"What Berlin looks like now, the world knows. There are more ruins than inhabited houses, more government buildings evacuated than still functioning.

"It is not hard for the German authorities to realize the stomach of a German has lots to do with morale. Berliners, even through the bombings, have been getting the food their ration cards call for, and have been getting it regularly. It is not much, naturally, but the rations have not been much for a long time and Berliners are accustomed to that. The important thing is that what is due them, they get.

"When I went to the station—which is more ruin than station—I found a weekly batch of 300 women, 50 babies and 250 children sent to Koenigsberg in East Prussia, with hundreds of other Berliners being evacuated on the daily special trains.

"No sooner had I found my seat, reserved for weeks in advance, than the Gestapo men examined my papers and travel passes. Their work was made a lot more difficult by the Allies, who drop blank travel passes along with bombs, but this examination was so thorough I thought it most likely would be the worst.

"I was wrong. From Berlin to the Spanish frontier Gestapo agents examined papers and cross-questioned me and my fellow-travelers 51 times. I spent hours waiting to be examined.

"The train went through Halle, Kassel and Cologne. I never have seen more complete and thorough demolition and destruction than those cities.

"Dessau was a wreck, too. The Siemens-Halske and Siemens-Schuckert plants seemed 75 per cent destroyed. The Leuna Chemical Works at Halle were smashed to rubble. In Kassel the only two buildings I saw standing were reinforced concrete anti-aircraft towers.

"Once we entered France there was a new worry—sabotage. But we arrived safely in Paris and left immediately on the trip toward Bordeaux. The constant examinations and cross-questionings increased.

"Before we reached Bordeaux what everybody feared came. The anti-aircraft batteries on the flat car of the train opened fire. Everybody tried to crawl under the seats. An Allied plane attacked with machine-guns but missed the locomotive. A number of passengers were injured."

brutal maner, then her skull was fractured."

The body of the woman found in Franklin Park was the discovery of JohnJ. Hammond, park foreman, whose telephone call to police was received only three hours after the first murder revelation.

Her clothing had been drawn up to her hips, the stockings rolled down and her underthings removed. They were found, blood-stained, about 15 feet away. Ten feet on the other side of the body was a black seal coat.

Investigation indicated she had first been attacked from behind a large boulder and tree only 25 yards from Seaver st. and Humboldt ave., Roxbury. Her killer then apparently carried her over rocks and inclines to a little gully where Hammond came across the body.

The slayer had beaten her face into a pulp. The swollen face had frozen to such an extent Medical Examiner Leary was obliged to postpone some aspects of the mortuary examination.

The clothing left on her broken body by the slayer consisted of a green checked dress, brown sweater and shoes and hose, both brown. Police estimated her age at 45.

They said they found her handbag, a black rubberized shopping bag and a pair of reddish-brown gloves of elbow length near the boulder where she suffered the first ferocious assault.

It was their opinion the murderer had forced his will upon her after carrying her from the boulder site to the gully.

Dr. Frederick W. Beering of South st., Jamaica Plain, police physician, said the woman had been dead 10 or 12 hours.

NEW ENGLAND TELEPHONE & TELEGRAPH CO.

YOUR PERSONAL POST WAR WORLD

The Ralph Oesterreichs live on Rural Route No. 1, Woodbine, Kansas.

Says Ralph Oesterreich: "I guess you'd say these are good times for farmers.

"But I know our extra war dollars won't mean a thing if we have inflation. I know about the mess we were in after the last war—because prices went way up.

"I can see that sitting on prices now will be good for the country. And I can see it will help give the Oesterreich family a chance to get what we want after this war. That's why I'm all for the seven-point plan. I'm doing every one of the things it calls for."

Here's what YOU can do to keep the lid on living costs

THE COST OF LIVING, for some of us, is like the weather. We talk about it, but don't do anything about it.

When we hear that prices might get out of hand—start on a one-way trip straight up—we shake our heads and let it go at that. Or we say, "Why doesn't the Government do something?"

Well, there's no denying that our Government has a job to do. It must decide which products are to be rationed. It must set price ceilings.

7 Things we all can do

But there are things that only we can do—each individual, for himself and his family. If we do them, we'll help keep the cost of living under control. You'll find them in the box—seven down-to-earth things our Government wants us all to do—and continue to do.

So we see the cost of living isn't really like the weather—we can do something about it. This is clear when we take a look in the next column at the causes of higher wartime prices.

The seven points show where our money can be put for safety—and where it won't be spent on unneeded goods. They remind us, too, how important it is to go along with our Government's price and ration regulations.

Together these things put the High Cost of Living where it belongs—under firm control. So why not—if you haven't already—start this day to do every one of them?

Here's what causes Runaway Prices . . .

In war, most of our factories are working full time making weapons. And a whole lot fewer peacetime goods are being made.

At the same time, many of us are being paid more in wages and salaries than ever before.

If we disregard price ceilings and try to use this extra money to buy these few goods—bingo! prices start going up! It's just the way prices go up at an auction.

But if we all follow our Government's seven-point program, it's a sure bet that we'll keep prices under control.

* * *

68,000,000 Americans, with the help of their life insurance agents are already doing one of these seven things. They have also found the peace of mind, the family protection, the feeling of independence that owning life insurance brings.

It is in the interest of these 68,000,000 people—as well as the nation as a whole—that the Life Insurance Companies of America have joined together to bring you this wartime message to help prevent runaway prices. Address inquiries to 60 East 42nd St., New York 17, New York.

RALPH OESTERREICH has a prosperous 350-acre farm which this year is bringing him an income of $3,900. But he's holding down his basic living expenses to $2,000—including taxes. The rest goes into War Bonds, life insurance and debt payments. Below is the 7-point plan he follows.

Here are the 7 Things our Government suggests that every family can do now and keep on doing

1. Buy and hold War Bonds.
2. Pay willingly our own share of the taxes—including increased taxes—that our country needs.
3. Provide for our security by adequate life insurance and savings.
4. Reduce our debts as much as possible!
5. Buy only what we need and make what we have last longer.
6. Follow the ration rules and price ceilings!
7. Cooperate with our Government's wage stabilization program.

Such finished soldiers as Pvt. Roy D. Moses of 14 Everett st., Dorchester, an ammunition bearer, who worked for Bucky MacDonald's Motor Co., used to dance with Katherine Cotter, and is going soon on furlough to visit his mother Alice's sisters, Edith and Rose, in England.

And Pfc. Anthony Gerrish of 91 Kings Cove Beach, North Weymouth, a rifleman, who used to help William Hanaford run his poultry farm, and wants to hear more often from Jean. And Pfc. Leo H. Lecuyer of 116 Mt. Auburn st., Cambridge, the second youngest of eight children, who used to work for Frank Taylor at F. S. Webster Co.

And Corp. Gerald A. Houde of 9 Hunt st., Brockton, who graduated from the Bentley School to the Army three years ago, and once co-captained the high school ball team. And Corp. Edward L. Devine of 109 Westville st., Dorchester, who delivered groceries for M. Weiner, and is bound for Scotland on his furlough. And Pvt. Roland "Frenchy" R. Baribeau of 88 Pearl st., Springfield, a demolitions man, who left eight years of contented life with wife, Helen (Patterson), and sons, Roland, 6, and William 3.

Miss Families, Friends

And Corp. Abraham Zuseman of 35 Leston st., Dorchester, a jeweler in the Province building on Washington st. And Pvt. John P. Crowder of 18 Spring Valley rd., West Roxbury, who used to work for his uncle, Harold Touhy, played hockey for Stoneham High in '39 and is engaged to Kay Costello (he got a batch of 15 letters lately). And Pfc. Charles J. Silletto of 43 Summer st., Lawrence, whose boss in the wool shop was John Cassidy, and whose wife, Julia (Pampel), sent him a woolen scarf that comes in "very handy on problems."

One of the hardest adjustments a soldier makes in the transition from civil life comes from the loss of visual contact with friends and family. He doesn't admit it openly, but worst of all for him is the fact that he misses the old, necessary feminine associations—his girl friend, his wife or his mother.

He'd scoff at the notion, but secretly longs for someone in skirts to bake him a cake, or mend his clothes, or put away his belongings, or comfort him when he's discouraged. The first sergeant makes a poor substitute in these amenities.

Corp. Gerald A. Houde Brockton — Pvt. John P. Crowder West Roxbury — Pfc. Anthony Gerrish North Weymouth — Pvt. Francis J. Sanborn Somerville

For even the toughest "powder monkey" in these outposts is sensitive to sentimental music, or feminine letters, which they invariably read not once, but over and over, to squeeze out some new interpretation or meaning.

Men like Corp. George Bailey of Cranston, R. I., a fire control motor man, who worked for Swift & Co., and hears from Pfc. Kay Bouchard (a female marine, whom he says, "I still outrank"). And Pvt. Clifton E. Macomber of 133 Laurel st., Fairhaven, an ex-milkman for H. B. Hood, who used to start his deliveries at 1 a. m., and gets mail faithfully from wife Catherine (Morey).

And Pvt. Louis V. Dufresne of 370 Lowell st., Lawrence, a member of the Sparrow's social club, whose ex-president, Pete Burgoyne, is in his outfit, and who hears "three times a week" from Rita McPherson.

This Different Army

And Pvt. John J. Keter of 345 Walker st., Lowell, a company runner, who hoards his mail from Lorice Shehoub and his sisters, Alice, Agnes and Ruth. And Pfc Francis I. Wiseman of South Main st., Middletown, who wears the watch his wife of eight months, Lorene (Parker) sent. ("I'd be lost without it.")

And Pfc. John R. Garrity of 52 Vernon st., Waltham, who used to tabulate for Hood Rubber under the boss-ship of Tony Monturi, and relishes the cakes his mother, Mrs. Maud B., mails. And Pvt. Francis J. Sanborn of 762 Broadway, Somerville, who worked for R. H. Rohmer at Medford Wool Scouring Co., used to play varsity basketball and football for the high school, and married Marie Donahoe Aug. 6, '43.

This is a different Army than our nation has ever known—different because the soldiers in this big assault school have been training longer, been under greater pressure, and are more carefully selected, than any converted civilian force in our history. Most of the men in this area, youths still in the plastic stage of life, average three years of service, or long enough to have learned a trade or profession, or mould the course of their later, adult life.

They're reconciled, with such rare exceptions as the lad that I mentioned before (and I might add that he was not one of the group that I have listed above)—reconciled to the fact they can't go home.

So invariably when I've asked, "What do you want? What do you need most over here?" their answers are "Oh, nothing." That answer is incomplete. The things they want most are the things they can't have—"that little hunk of heaven" as Pvt. James E. Stewart of 59 Endicott st., Peabody, who liked the way his mother, Mrs. Francis, cooked his pork chops, called H O M E!

New Sickness and Accident Plan Pays $25 Weekly Benefits

Costs Only $12 a Year—Down Payment $2.50—Hospital Benefit Included

Newark, N.J.—The 57-year-old North American Accident Insurance Company of Chicago, announces a new plan that pays $25 a week for 10 weeks for both stated accidents and sickness. Plus an additional $25 a week for 4 weeks for accidents requiring hospital confinement. Yet the total cost is only $12 a year. The purpose of this new Premier Limited Double Duty Policy is to bring sickness and accident protection within the reach of men and women who do not have large savings with which to meet sudden doctor or hospital bills, or lost income.

This new plan also has a double-indemnity feature covering travel accidents. You receive $50 a week if disabled by an accident in a bus, taxicab, street car, train, etc., and $75 a week if the accident requires hospital confinement. There is another new special clause that pays up to $25 cash for doctor bills, even for a minor accident such as a cut finger. Thus all accidents are provided for. In case of death by a common accident, the policy pays one thousand dollars cash to your family. Two thousand dollars if caused by a travel accident. In addition, it covers many common sicknesses, such as pneumonia, cancer, appendicitis, etc., paying the weekly benefits whether confined to home or hospital.

The entire cost is only $12 a year, and that applies to men and women between the ages of 16 and 69. For people between the ages of 69 and 75 the cost is only $15 a year, benefits reduced to two-thirds after age 60. No medical examination is required.

North American Accident Insurance Company of Chicago is one of America's great insurance companies, the largest and oldest exclusive health and accident insurance company in this country. It has paid out more than $33,000,000 to grateful policyholders when they needed help most. North American is under the supervision of the Insurance Departments of 47 States and District of Columbia.

Men and women who would like full details about this new plan are urged to write a letter or postcard for a revealing booklet called "Cash or Sympathy." This booklet is absolutely free. It will come by ordinary mail, without charge or obligation of any kind. No one will call to deliver it. We suggest you get a copy of this free booklet by writing North American Accident Insurance Co., Premier Policy Dept., 1907 Title Building, Newark 2, New Jersey.

LIFE ASSURANCE FIGHTS INFLATION

Policyholders' savings important contribution to War Effort and Post-War Reconstruction

One of the many distinctive services performed by Life Assurance in these urgent times is the mobilization of the people's savings against the insidious but none the less devastating enemy — inflation. Thus millions of men and women, advised by a worthy and highly-trained group of their fellow-countrymen who "sell" Life Assurance, withhold their savings from the luxury market and set them aside to secure protection and well-being for themselves and their loved ones in the unknown days to come.

In the past year alone, the million policyholders of the Sun Life of Canada have set aside $112 millions of their savings in the form of Life Assurance premiums.

During the war years there has been a marked increase in the basic service rendered by Life Assurance—personal and family protection in the time of greatest need. The Sun Life of Canada, since September 1939, has paid out 365 million dollars to policyholders and beneficiaries, a really significant contribution to the stability of national family life in time of emergency.

THE SLINGS and arrows of outrageous slapstick are the misfortune of Eddie Bracken, latest Preston Sturges hero, who is in love with Betty Hutton in "The Miracle of Morgan's Creek" but without hope of having his love reciprocated. You'll be seeing them in this hilariously comic classic on the Metropolitan screen, starting Tuesday.

Pin-Up Girls Score at K-B

By DON WARD

From Fifi's Modiste Shoppe to the grand old flag finale, the Hollywood Pin-Up Girls could certainly corner the market for that hard-to-get commodity.

They're that beautiful. They're the cynosure of all eyes at the RKO-Boston in the bright and breezy new stage show.

With the lovely fugitives from the cameras are a half-dozen top-flight standard acts. "Opera in the Rough," with Aarens and Broderick kidding the classics and chasing infinitesimal wild life around with a flashlight, is a classic all by itself.

It wows the crowd. Likewise, I'm sure, does Ben Berl, called a "funipulator," who can juggle, and The Amazing Mr. Ballantine, whose powers of magic just won't work, but whose comedy patter is priceless.

Those assorted pooches of Al Gordon's deserve a carload of hamburgs, too, for some of the cleverest canine cutting up on the boards.

For the poetry of motion, featured with the lovelies in such striking production numbers as the Mexican Fiesta and the Tribute to Ziegfeld, there are dancing Bob and Beverly of Follies Bergere fame. And the vocals are handsomely taken care of by handsome Larry Stuart.

Gala New Globe, Howard, Casino Revues

Pre-holiday week-end business at the Globe promises to be bigger and better with the opening of Bob Ferguson's own stage show tomorrow at midnight. There will be another midnight show on the eve of Washington's Birthday.

Ferguson has dressed his show with some of burlesque's most decorative lovelies in the persons of Trudine, who would be described as "a torrid temptress"; Georgia Lee, a Dixie belle, and the 30 Bernardolls, whose changing dance routines are a weekly surprise.

His comic aides include Max Coleman and Franklyn Hopkins.

For tomorrow's continuous 1-to-11 p. m. vaudeville bill, there will be such headliners as the Three Edwards Brothers, Mac Dennison and Al Murray, Marrone and Gallo, the Two Mathandis and Art Spaulding.

Sunny-haired Sunya Slane, Alyne Payne and Terry King are currently sharing the spotlight at the Old Howard.

The comedy capers are ably engineered by Stinky and Shorty, assisted by Phil Wagner and Jack Hutchinson. Others in the show are Martha Kaye, the Edwards Brothers, Monty Wolf, Al Frazier and Grace and Gemi Belmont.

The Casino Theater goes coy with a new stage show, "Tease for You," starring Lili Dawn with Diane Kaye and Sherry White. There will be a pre-holiday show Monday at midnight.

Let MacArthur Command

THE PROGRAM offered by Senator Albert B. Chandler of Kentucky for immediate application in the war against Japan is supported by every sound military consideration.

It is even more strongly supported by sound political considerations.

Victory in the Pacific war DEPENDS upon the adequate emphasis we give to the effort and upon a unified military command, as Senator Chandler urges.

Only the political considerations which recognize this fact can be expected to be popular with the American people.

It is a strange thing that after more than two years of a war which started with an unprovoked and destructive Japanese attack upon America there is still a need for EMPHASIS.

It is a strange thing, and even more inexplicable, that after more than two years of war with Japan we are still fighting under separate and overlapping and even inharmonious military, naval and air commands.

At the beginning of the Pacific war there was a PRETENSE, if not a sincere intention, to have a single, unified American command.

Supposedly and logically, the supreme command was to be vested in General Douglas MacArthur.

GENERAL MacARTHUR was the outstanding American military authority in the Pacific.

He was IN the Pacific area from the beginning.

He conducted the brilliant defense of the Philippines that bought the time we needed to mobilize in the Pacific.

He was transferred to Australia to organize a defense that would check the Japanese, and DID check them—and, in spite of the handicap of inadequate forces and supply, took the offensive against the Japanese.

But in addition to being poorly supplied, General MacArthur has never in reality HAD the supreme command in the Pacific it was supposed he had and that he is so well qualified to wield.

As Senator Chandler now says:

"General MacArthur in his campaign in the Pacific is on the offensive, but is limited by supplies and equipment and NEEDS MORE SUPPORT.

"General MacArthur, according to some of our ablest military leaders, is a GREAT COMMANDER.

"He knows where he is going and if he is given material and equipment he will BRING ABOUT A VICTORY for us sooner than we would otherwise gain it.

"The operation in the Pacific seems to be ONE OPERATION and should be co-ordinated under ONE HEAD.

"General MacArthur seems to be THE BEST QUALIFIED MAN TO LEAD THE OFFENSIVE."

SINCE it is clearly in accord with the soundest military considerations to have General MacArthur exercise supreme command in the Pacific, it is surely in accord with the best political considerations.

The only good military policy we can pursue in the Pacific war is to WIN as soon as possible and with as little expenditure of men and materials as possible.

What other political policy than that can be pursued with satisfaction to the American people, and particularly with any expectation of achieving popularity with the people?

Why should we leave undone anything that "will bring about a victory for us SOONER THAN WE WOULD OTHERWISE GAIN IT"?

Establishment of a unified command in the Pacific war UNDER GENERAL MACARTHUR is the one thing needed for that vital purpose.

It is the one thing still being left UNDONE.

The American people WANT it done.

American military, naval and air authorities know and say it SHOULD be done.

Why do not our European-minded political authorities bow to the will of the people and heed sound military counsel?

An Inspiring Sacrifice

IN THE Army, Navy, Coast Guard and Marine Corps, the American Negro takes his place to share in glory, danger and death for defense of the liberty none cherishes more than he.

A story of such self-sacrifice and heroism is that just made known by the Coast Guard.

Charles W. David, Jr., Negro mess attendant on a combat cutter, gave his life to save his executive officer and others during rescue operations in the North Atlantic.

David went over the side into icy waters on at least three occasions.

His action, upholding the highest tradition of the Coast Guard, must be an inspiration to all men of the armed services, of whatever race or creed.

He took the bride about the neck
And kissed her lips with
Such a clamorous smack
That at the parting
All the church did echo.
—SHAKESPEARE.

OUR Horses & Women Department has been asked if the proper way to kiss a bride is not "gently and tenderly." Our H. & W. Department says there are 27 occasions in married life when a wife should be kissed "gently" but at the church door is not one of them. The kiss for the bride our H. & W. experts favor is one similar to that described by Mr. Shakespeare . . . Am asked what I think of the "curative powers" of the springs at Hot Springs, Ark. Cannot speak from personal experience as I had nothing to be cured of when there. However, I understand the U. S. Army and the U. S. Navy tested the curative powers of the waters of all the best known natural springs in the world, including Baden-Baden, and found those of Hot Springs, Ark., to be the best by a wide margin.

ASIDES: Channing Manning of Fresno, Cal., is going to run for president of the My-Name-Is-a-Poem Club. He will be vigorously opposed by the present president, Hugh Blue. Speaking to reporters recently, Blue said: "Certainly I am going to run for 16 years, and so what?" . . . Since Pearl Harbor five Japanese generals and one admiral have committed harikari . . . A mother of three children claims the best lullabies are "The Beautiful Ohio" and "The Missouri Waltz." If you try these out, please let us know the results.

SIDELIGHTS: "My Heart Tells Me" is my favorite among the currently popular songs. How I would like to have heard Helen Morgan sing that! As I said before, it is distinctly a song for a woman to sing, but male crooners continue to sing it . . . Now I know what a babushka is. And a wimple. But am not yet sure about a snood. Anyway, I guess the snood is about the oldest hat style still worn by women. A Pittsburgher writes: "The snood is first mentioned in Euripides' drama Bacchae, written about 405, B. C. . . ." "Wasn't the great musical show star, Della Fox, from Brooklyn?" asks a Brooklynite. No, sir. Della was from the same town which gave us Betty Grable, which is St. Louis, Mo.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: The honor system in restaurants seems to have reached a new high in Seattle. An eatery there permits the customer to figure the amount of his check, pay the check, put the money in the cash register and make his own change . . . Some historians have checked what St. Luke says in the Bible as to the time of the birth of Christ with historical records of the reign of Caesar Augustus. These historians now say Christ was not born 1943 years ago but 1951 years ago in 8, B. C. . . . What do you call your mother-in-law? Better call her "mother." Note in a recent divorce case the husband named as one of his grounds for divorce that his wife "stubbornly refused" to call her mother-in-law "Mother" but addressed her as "Mrs."

BRIEFLY: When Shirley Temple was six years old, which was nine years ago, an accident insurance policy was taken out for her. One clause in this policy read: "Shirley Temple must not take up arms in defense of her country." Well, Shirley is still too young to join the WACs, but it would be interesting to know what effect her enlistment in that group would have on her aforementioned accident - insurance policy . . . British women asking the government to release more material for hats say they are "tired of wearing turbans." I don't blame them. Only one woman in 50 looks well in a turban. And, besides, no matter how many different turbans she has, she probably always feels she is wearing the same hat. Very few things seem to make a female more morose than having to wear the same hat too long.

PASSING BY: Glen "Scamp" Moore. Of Fred Waring's band. Mr. Moore has a dog which stands up on two feet when the National Anthem is played . . . John L. Herget. Boxer of yesteryear who fought as "Young Mitchell" and was never defeated. Some years ago John and a group of San Francisco fans contributed $500 for a headstone for the grave of Jack "Nonpareil" Dempsey near Portland, Ore. So the great fighter's last resting place is not "unmarked," as is frequently alleged.

"I've been writing ten fellows in the Army and ten in the Navy and they're all getting furloughs at the same time. Could you manage two or three for me, Sis?"

My Day — By Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Friday — the mother of a young nurse whom I had seen in a hospital in Australia lunched with me yesterday. Her husband, a veteran of the last war, is dead, and her young son of eighteeen is now in the service. It is easy to understand that bringing up the two children has not been simple, but she looks young, and having had training as a pianist, she still uses her talent playing in canteens in the evening.

Every night she works on the night shift in a factory which makes airplane parts. She does not complain. She only says that when the war is over she hopes to get something which she can do to support herself, but which will not be in factory surroundings. That's a good American war story, isn't it?

★ ★ ★

AT 4 O'CLOCK IN THE afternoon Mr. Chester Williams of OWI brought in the four British labor men who have been touring our country. They have visited factories comparable to those in which they worked in Great Britain, but they have also seen other types of work. All of them are impressed by the volume of output here and also by the hospitality and kindness shown them. They said that they would go back firmly convinced that there was no prejudice against Great Britain's workers among American workers in this country.

THEY ALSO FELT THAT the workers of Great Britain had passed through some of the difficulties which are facing our great trade unions. These men believe that in Britain, they had a better understanding that a trade union was an instrument for community service as well as for service to its individual members.

They also emphasized that they felt that had reached a more advanced point in labor-management relations, though they were surprised that our trade union groups have been able to accomplish so much in such a short time.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 19—May be a bit of a surprise to David Selznick when he hears Joan Fontaine is planning to retire. This is not hearsay, but right from Joan's own lips. She was on the train coming west with me and she said:

"Brian has wanted me to be just Mrs. Aherne for the last year. I am not well, as you know, and he feels I should forget my career. I want to make 'Forever' at M-G-M and then sign off for good."

Joan Fontaine

She says she and her husband, Brian Aherne, have seen very little of each other the last year. Bond tours have taken her in one direction and him in another. I never realized what a gay person Joan can be when she is relaxing. She told story after story on herself and when a gal can make as much fun of herself as Joan does and forget she is a great movie star she is all right for my money.

PRESTON STURGES will certainly be his own boss in the new Sturges-Hughes company which has just been organized. Howard, in verifying the story, said: "I want to make one thing clear. I cannot devote any time to the motion picture business until the war is over. I have abandoned all my company's motion picture activities for the duration. Preston Sturges will carry on my business without any attention on my part. I have admired his work for many years and I have complete confidence in him." "The Miracle of Morgan's Creek," Preston's last Para production, has been making the box office sing.

BING CROSBY and Leo McCarey are like Mike and Ike—just two buddies who like to make pictures together. When Bing starred in "Going My Way?" at Paramount the comraderie between the two, with their combined sense of humor, made the day fly. Now Leo is reading a story for RKO called "Fiesta" with a "South of the Border" flavor. It starts in the not too-distant future—that is, if plans go through. Who can tell in the picture business what movies won't be postponed!

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: Rumors keep cropping up that all is not well with Marlene Dietrich's daughter, Maria Manton and her husband; the Skeets Gallagher show, "Good Night Ladies," closes March 11 in Chicago after a two-year run, and moves to Milwaukee. Chicago is giving Skeets and the company a farewell that will be a regular civic occasion; Joseph Cotten and Mrs. Cotten, Connie Moore and Johnny Maschio arrived at the Variety Club luncheon at the very end. Ernie Byfield fed them all and sent them to the eastbound train. Joe told me he was going on the radio and Connie is going to sing on the same program; Elsa Maxwell has been very, very ill, but when I talked with her on the telephone she said she was feeling better.

TOWNSEND NETCHER and Frank Mandel, two big-time Chicago merchants, were on the train coming West with me. Johnny Meyers also returned after a month or more in New York; Maria Montez, who did a grand job selling bonds, heard as soon as she came home that Jean Pierre Aumont has been transferred to London; Brenda Joyce returns from Florida in a few days. Her second child will be born in April; Diana Barrymore has lost pounds. She was on the Treasury radio show with Helen Hayes, Vincent Jory, Xavier Cugat and this writer before I started home; saw so many Hollywood folk in my travels; Peggy Stewart starts her comeback in the movies at Republic, playing the lead in "Tucson Raiders."

Broadway . . . . By Dorothy Kilgallen

NEW YORK, Feb. 19—Being the athletic type, we have perhaps jumped to one conclusion too many. This pillar has all along been partial to night clubs on the grounds that much of the news emanates from these emporia. And so we have gone on and on talking about cafes, little realizing that the percentage of people who frequent these nocturnal outposts is small, indeed. Today's sermon will therefore be devoted to painting a more explicit picture of a Manhattan night club.

There are two kinds of night clubs The too large and the too small.

The former type is called the theater-restaurant, because it is a little of neither. The show is loud and long and chances are you can hear it much better than you can see it, which often is an advantage. The small night club is always called "intimate," because that's the way most of the couples are who enter and it's certainly the way they are by the time they leave.

NOW WE MIGHT consider the personnel. First, there is the owner or owners, whom you rarely see around the place. As a rule, they hate night clubs. The manager, or front man, is all over the place. You can recognize him from his smile and handshake.

Ten to one the most elegant individual in the club is the head waiter or, as we used to say in the old country, the maitre d'hotel. He wears a definitely superior air. His charges include waiter captains and waiters. Waiters are the personalities who bring you menus after a long wait. It is they who tell you, after you decide what you want, that there isn't any more. A waiter captain is the gent you call over when you want a waiter,

The New York night clubs are more glamorous than others in the country because they are more elaborate and you are likely to see more celebrities in them than any place else in the world, including Hollywood.

Go to a night club if you can afford it and if you want to enjoy yourself and a floor show. Don't go if you want to breathe fresh air.

Star Shine By Sidney Skolsky

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 19—Ingrid Bergman was at a gathering and a director walked over to her and said, "I see where you're going to do Sarah Bernhardt. That's a terrific part for an actress."

"Yes," replied Miss Bergman, "but I don't know if I'm the actress to do it."

Ingrid Bergman

"Nonsense," said the director. "You'll be great as Bernhardt."

"I don't believe I'm the type," said Miss Bergman. "Sarah Bernhardt was typically French; I'm typically Nordic. Fair where she was dark. She was red-haired and I'm blondish.

"Furthermore," went on Miss Bergman, "the temperaments are different. Miss Bernhardt was fiery, dramatic; I'm easy going, phlegmatic. So you see I haven't any of the characteristics of Sarah Bernhardt."

"It's true," said the director, "when you state it that way. But you forget a very important thing, and that is that today's picture audiences don't know Sarah Bernhardt. Who would know that you're not the same type?"

"I would," replied Miss Bergman.

GARBO IS BACK in town, being less elusive, and still on the search for what she considers a good story. It is about time for Gee Gee to start work, for she has been absent from the screen too long. And it is not good for an artist to remain idle so long these days.

There was a time, some years back, when every producer was searching for "another Garbo." Many foreign actresses were imported and given build-ups as "another Garbo," only to have that title work against them.

But then quietly, and without any fanfare, an actress has come along to occupy a position in the cinema comparable to Gee Gee's. She is not strictly "another Garbo," but in her own way she has gained much distinction, and if Garbo ever had a rival she is it.

The actress is Ingrid Bergman, who also hails from Sweden. It is only recently that the paths of Bergman and Garbo crossed. It is not well known that Garbo was first interested in "Gaslight." In fact, so much so that she purchased the screen rights for $60,000. Then Gee Gee, not wanting to have that amount of money invested in a story, sold it to Metro with the proviso that she play the lead in it. The studio agreed and purchased the property. Then, while the studio was preparing the screen play, Gee Gee became afraid of the role and decided that it wasn't for her.

Metro then cast the actress who had never been called "another Garbo," but is certainly the only rival she ever had, in the role. And it is looked upon as another triumph for Ingrid Bergman.

"Martha's taking leap year seriously."

British Comment

By George E. Sokolsky

I DISAGREE with my Republican friends, including Governor Bricker, about British newspapers minding their own business concerning American elections. It is the business of a newspaper to report and comment on everything that comes within its scope. When Pravda recently denounced Americans for their views on Russian policy, there was no particular resentment in this country although Soviet Russia did manage to have a Polish newspaper in London closed down. The distinction must be made that whereas every newspaper in Russia is government-owned, the press in Britain is free and editors express their own private views.

I am convinced that an American election is as much the business of a British newspaper as a British election is the business of an American newspaper.

THE BRITISH, however, have to recognize in their own interest that they often say things quite all right for England but very badly for America. In that respect many Britishers have unwittingly done Dr. Goebbel's work in this country. The dowager, for instance, who says at a dinner party: "We must have Roosevelt," does a very bad job for England even if what she says is true. If instead she had said: "You must have Roosevelt" it would have been different—the difference between "you" and "we," between mine and thine.

Republicans are not anti-British. Many of them distrust Soviet Russia but are normally friendly to Great Britain with an understanding wink of the right eye. In the past they have not been as antagonistic to Britain's policy in India, Ireland, Persia, China and the empire generally as the Democrats and the so-called liberals who only too often regarded the British as the devils of history. But the British, particularly when Lord Lothian was ambassador, adopted an attitude of antagonism toward Republicans. All Republicans know of Lord Lothian's intervention in the Taft-Willkie situation in 1940 and resent it. Lord Lothian had a right to express a preference but it was stupid to do it.

Even more awkward, from a British standpoint, has been the alliance between British groups in this country and Freedom House and its numerous related organizations which have paradoxically supported both Roosevelt and Willkie.

I SHOULD HATE for the day to come when Americans will be so sensitive that they will be resentful of intelligent or even unintelligent criticism of themselves and their conduct and their affairs by foreign newspapers. Such criticism often has great value.

I am certain that Republicans enjoyed Pravda's spanking of Willkie and I cannot believe that their skins have become so thin that they cannot take a lacing from Anthony Eden's paper.

Furthermore, I should hate to believe that after all the horrible things that American columnists have said about England and Russia we are unwilling to have newspapers in those countries say equally horrible things about us.

BUT THE QUESTION does arise: Can England at this stage afford to intervene in the 1944 election directly or indirectly, by speech or implication? That is something that I cannot decide for the British and their press being free—in some respects even freer than ours—the British government cannot decide that question. It is one for each British editor to decide for himself.

I can only say this in the way of what might be called constructive advice: After what has happened since Teheran, the British need lots of friends in the United States, particularly friends in a party that is likely to control the next Congress. They will make no new enemies by speaking freely from a strictly British standpoint; they will lose friends by electioneering. This is not a matter of right; it is a matter of judgment.

Stars' Designers List Spring Hats

Beauty

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

MANY TIMES these days one hears this conversation between a man and a gal . . . "How do you like my hat?" . . . "Is that thing a hat?" . . . It's true . . . almost anything can go on the head.

Not so long ago . . . to prove the point . . . a very pretty glamor gal donned a lamp shade on her head . . . trimmed it with garlands of fresh vegetables . . . and stood at one of Hollywood's busiest interesctions.

Guess what? . . . Persons looked at her . . . but NOT ONE gave the "hat" a second glance. It is important to remember these days . . . that your coiffure must fit your hat . . . unless like the experimental gal you'll try anything once.

So, if you're going spring bonnet shopping . . . wear your hair the way you're going to when the flowers bloom, tra la, tra la . . . If you plan to give the pompadour the brush-off . . . then, do so now before you "puts down your money and takes your choice."

LIST THREE NEW STYLES

And, by the same token, if the smooth-off-the-brow look is creeping up on you . . . bravely make the change . . . and then fit your bonnet to the type . . . for there is a drastic difference in the style of hat to fit either of these hairdos.

Three of the nation's leading hat designers . . . who dress practically all of the smart heads of the movie gals . . . list the new styles for hats as . . . 1, balanced side width . . . meaning a shorter back to front line . . . 2, hats worn back on the head and often flat . . . and 3, hats that fit the head with snugging caress.

Because the new hairdo sweeps the hair toward the back . . . many hats introduce cutouts over the ears . . . and a pointed slash at the back . . . to give the hair full play. Others fit the head like a Grecian helmet . . . while still others follow the close line . . . but have an extra little "cake crown" to add height.

If you plan to affect a complete cotton wardrobe for the summer, you'd adore the "Dutch" bonnet so bewitchingly worn by RKO Star Michele Morgan, and so ideal for the brushed-back hair smoothness. It isn't easily worn, so many of us gals have to be mighty careful before we chance a bonnet of this type. But, it is cute . . . particularly for the gal wearing her hair in a youthful page boy bob with smooth top and center part.

"TELL ME PRETTY MAIDEN . . . are there any more at home like you?" . . . It takes a gal with a beautiful complexion to wear this captivating and youthful Dutch bonnet . . . a gal with facial beauty comparable to the loveliness of RKO star Michele Morgan. If you have a cameo-like face of flawlessness . . . you, too, can don this bit of fetching femininity.

Washington's Birthday Party for the Children

By MARTHA LEE

BY ALL MEANS, give a patriotic party for the youngsters on Washington's birthday. Plan games and contests connected with the war or American history, use red, white and blue decorations, and serve refreshments that carry out the historical motive.

A game young guests will like is a variation of the classic Cinderella's slipper game. Hang a flag low on the wall where everybody can reach the field of stars. Blindfold the children in turn, giving each a star cut from paper. They must walk, blindfolded, several feet to the flag and pin their stars in place. Those whose stars are in best position are winners.

Drums filled with cream cheese dessert, garnished with cherries, and accompanied by a pair of drumsticks made of cinnamon toast, will make a novel table decoration as well as a happy ending to the menu. The drums are made by wrapping a strip of white paper, banded with red and blue, around custard cups holding the pudding.

This dessert is a boon to ration problems, too, because you can make eight generous servings from one six-ounce wedge-shaped cut of cream cheese. You need no butter for the cinnamon toast if you use cream cheese, which is rich in butter fat as well as protein and vitamins. Just cut sliced bread into little sticks, spread them with the cream cheese, then sprinkle with cinnamon and sugar. Then toast a golden brown.

LEMON CREAM CHEESE DESSERT

LEMON CREAM CHEESE DESSERT

1 6-oz. wedge cut of cream cheese
3½ cups milk 2 rennet tablets
7 tbsp. sugar 2 tbsp. cold water
2 tsp. lemon extract

Soften cream cheese at room temperature. Mash and add milk a little at a time, beating smooth with rotary egg beater. Add sugar and lemon extract. Warm milk in top of double boiler, stirring constantly. Test a drop on inside of wrist frequently.) When comfortably worm (120 deg. F.), not hot, remove at once from stove. Add rennet tablets which have been dissolved in water. Stir quickly for a few seconds. Pour at once, while still liquid, into individual dessert glasses or custard cups. Do not move until firm (about 10 mins). Chill thoroughly. Serves 8.

CREAM CHEESE CINNAMON TOAST

Soften a six-ounce wedge cut of cream cheese at room temperature until it is easy to spread. Toast sliced bread lightly. Spread generously with cream cheese. Sprinkle with sugar, dust with cinnamon and put under broiler until golden brown.

GINGERBREAD FILLING

1 6-oz. wedge cream cheese
¼ cup milk
1 cup dates, chopped
½ cup nuts, chopped

Mash cream cheese and add milk, working to smooth paste. Add dates and nuts and spread between layers of gingerbread.

UNCOOKED FUDGE

1 6-oz. wedge cream cheese
3 squares bitter chocolate, melted
2 cups sugar 1 tsp. vanilla
1 beaten egg

Mash cream cheese, add chocolate, sugar, vanilla and egg. Form into roll, chill and cut; or chill, form into small balls and roll in chopped nuts.

Mary Louise French Weds Today

By BETTY ALDEN

BEAUTEOUS MARY LOUISE FRENCH of Winchester is walking down the aisle to the strains of Lohengren and the National Anthem as well at her marriage to Lieut. Walworth Bragdon Williams, USNR, in the First Congregational Church, Winchester, at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward V. French of Winchester, the bride is a graduate of Winsor and Vassar '42, and has been employed in a government laboratory during the past year and a half while her fiance was on active duty aboard a destroyer. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Williams of Newton Center and temporarily stationed in Maine where he and his bride will live at Bath. Before entering the service he graduated from Yale Sheffield Scientific School.

Given in marriage by her father, Mary Louise is carrying freesia, roses and butterfly orchids with her period gown of satin and heirloom lace. Her cousin, Priscilla Hartman of Wisconsin is maid of honor, wearing springlike yellow organza and carrying heather and pansies. The bridesmaids, in aqua organza with bouquets of spring flowers, are the Misses Mary and Rosalind Stark of Chicago, Alison Smith and Beatrice Talbot of Brookline, Mrs. Parker Williams, sister-in-law of the groom, and Mrs. Richard Lovell of Alexandria, Va., the former Beverly W. Smith of Brookline.

GUESTS AT LUNCHEON

JUST BACK from a holiday at Daytona Beach and sporting a beauty of a tan, Mrs. Ernest Henderson of Lincoln was the envy of her friends at yesterday's Symphony Luncheon at the Copley Plaza. She entertained Mrs. Frank Twadelle of Wellesley, wife of an Army major, and after luncheon they went on to Symphony. Mrs. Twadelle looked very springlike in a navy suit with touches of white and an off-the-face hat of navy with open crown and scarlet ribbon band. Mrs. Hugh Ogden was another of the many music lovers applauding Boris Goldovsky's pre-view of the afternoon program.

ENJOY DANCING DATES

ELEANOR PINGREE of Weston is another socialite sporting a healthy tan. She acquired hers skiing at Lake Placid and to celebrate her homecoming she had a dancing date with Ensign Schuyler Dillon at the Copley Plaza Oval Room the other evening.

Grace "Bo" Eddy and Bill Chick were two-soming the same evening and other peppy socialites enjoying an evening of the young set's favorite rhumbas and sambas were Dorothy Garritt with Pvt. Bob Danner, Cynthia Vose with Lieut. Richard Watson, Betty Vose and Lieut. Willard Crinkley, Dorothy Shelton squired by Pvt. Jim MacFarlan, and petite Jane Nawn whose date was Ensign Robert Byrne of Milton.

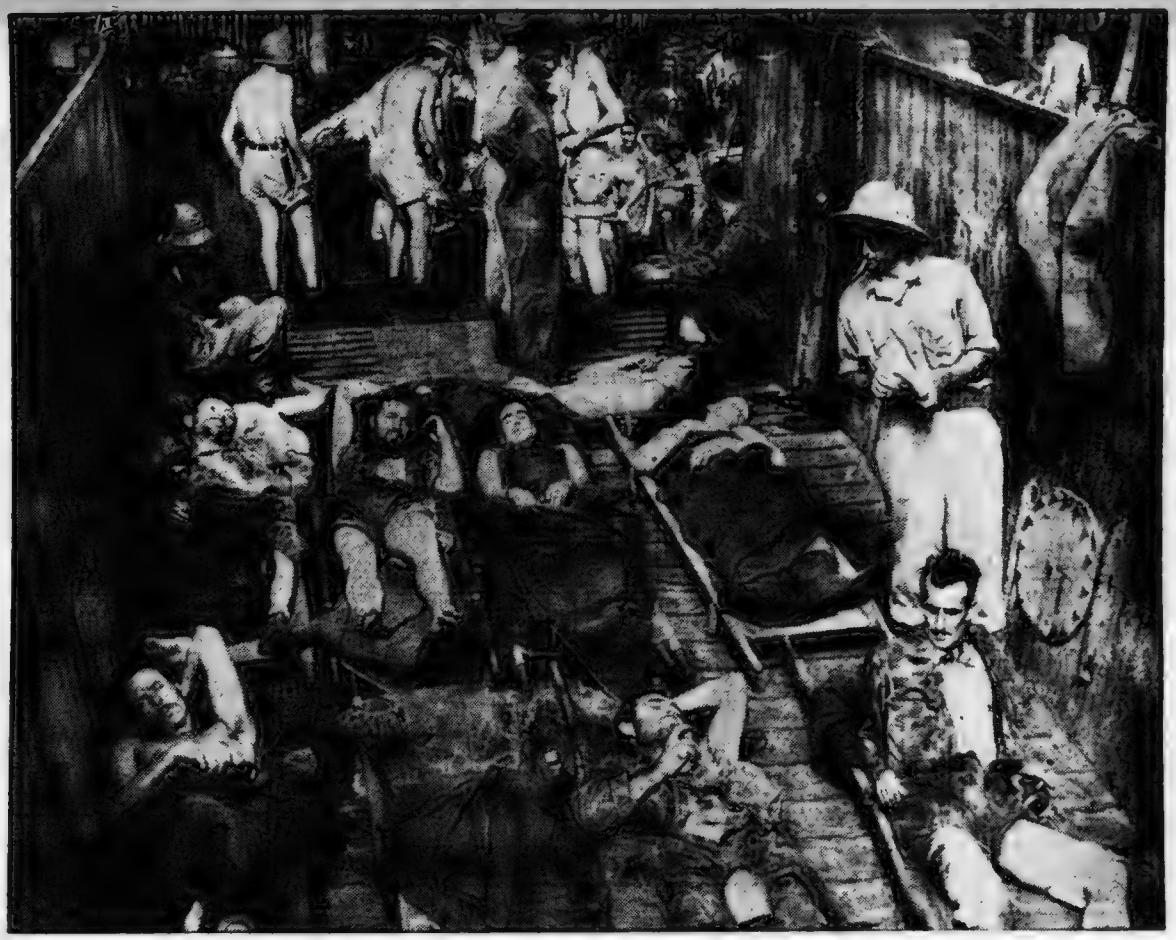
Fashion

WINNING STYLE . . . unaffected economy of material . . . and affluence of flattering detail . . . distinguish the black jersey hostess slacks . . . modeled by CBS Singer Phyllis Creore. Isn't it a honey of an at-home outfit?—R. M.



Pin-up picture for the man who "can't afford" to buy an extra war bond...

YOU'VE HEARD PEOPLE say: "I can't afford to buy an extra War Bond." Perhaps you've said it yourself ... without realizing what a ridiculous thing it is to say to men who are dying.

The very least that you can do is to buy an extra $100 War Bond...above and beyond the Bonds you are now buying or had planned to buy. In fact, if you take stock of your resources, you will probably find that you can buy an extra $200...or $300...or even $500 worth of War Bonds.

Sounds like more than you "can afford"? Well, young soldiers can't afford to die, either...yet they do it when called upon. So is it too much to ask of us that we invest more of our money in War Bonds...the best investment in the world today? Is that too much to ask?

Honor JVA Sponsor

Edward Munzing, Blue Hill ave., Roxbury, a Scout commissioner, and sponsor for a Junior Victory Army Corps, has been awarded the Silver Eagle Palm.

This is the highest decoration available to an Eagle scout.

His JVA unit is made up of Boy Scouts, all of whom have taken part in salvage work and other Home Front activities, including courier service.

His brother Bill, a U. S. Marine corporal, is "somewhere in the South Pacific."

Tests on first aid subjects were undergone by JVA Corps No. 260 at its last meeting. The commander is Irene Semenuk while the captain is Jane Paczkowska and the sponsor, Gertrude McVann.

Sergt. Helen Garabedian led the group in physical exercises.

To join the JVA, send your name, age and address to Junior Victory Army headquarters, P. O. Box 228, Boston, Mass.. If, in addition to enlistment, you want the JVA insignia pin and membership card, enclose a 10-cent coin well-wrapped in your letter.

Read the next JVA story in Sunday's Advertiser.

Ice Shows Pass Bruins As Garden Gate Magnet

By HUCK FINNEGAN

EDDIE POWERS is assistant treasurer and assistant general manager of the Boston Garden, but he hasn't had much of a chance to work since the Ice Follies came to town. Most of his day is taken up explaining to friends why he can't get them four on the 50-yard line.

"For long run performances, the Ice Follies have everything stopped," said the Garden Beau Brummel. "The Ice Capades set a record of 243,000 spectators for 22 shows, but this Johnson - Shipstad production will have a higher average for 18 shows. It is attracting 12,500 to every performance (13,500 is capacity) and would exceed that figure had not the public safety laws reduced our seating capacity recently.

Eddie Powers

"I can recall when the Garden was built," he continued. "Boxing and the Bruins were to put us over. The Bruins held up well, even held up during the depression, but boxing dropped way down. Nobody figured the entertainment angle in those days but today our four biggest sources of income are ice shows, the Bruins, rodeo and the circus in that order."

★ ★ ★

Sonja "Made" Sport

SONJA HENIE, of course, popularized figure skating.

"More than that," Powers added. "She attracted a brand new clientele—movie patrons. Where many women several years back thought the Garden was a 'den of iniquity,' featuring boxing and wrestling, they changed their minds after seeing Sonja in 'One in a Million,' 'Sun Valley Serenade," etc. They not only came to the ice shows but brought the children."

Powers recalled the Ice Follies' debut here—back in '37.

"They were given two nights, Wednesday and Thursday, Jan. 6 and 7. Two of the worst nights in the year because everybody's broke after Christmas. There were only 25 in the cast but they made an immediate hit. Drew $16,000 for two performances, in a couple of years moved up to nine and have two solid weeks now. Most astonishing growth in Garden history.

POWERS thumbed his financial tomes between phone calls.

"Know the largest crowd we ever had in the Garden?" he smiled. "A jitterbug show put on by the Record-American in 1938 drew it. It was a Christmas basket fund promotion, and drew 23,769 paid. Admission was only a dollar and music was provided by Rudy Vallee and Benny Goodman. A great take-in."

Hollywood Victory Caravan, staged by the Navy Relief Society on May 1, 1942 ($10 top) drew a tremendous gate of $77,084.70 from 15,885 spectators. That isn't the Garden record, however. No, the record is still held by Gus Sonnenberg and Strangler Lewis, who on Jan. 4, 1929, wrestled before 19,500 who laid $79,000 on the line for the privilege.

Other magnetic Garden attractions were:

Nov. 17, 1928 (Garden opening)—Honeyboy Finnegan vs. Andre Routis. Attendance never computed. Crowd broke down doors. Receipts, $48,349.50.

March 1, 1929—Jim Maloney vs. Tom Heeney. Attendance, 19,069; receipts, $54813.23.

Jan. 10, 1930—Al Friedman vs. Ernie Schaf and Al Spohrer vs. Art Shires. Attendance, 16,000; receipts, $33891.95.

May 17, 1930—Jim Maloney vs. Ricardo Betazollo. Attendance, 15,000; receipts, $33,826.70. Maloney fouledhim, and Eddie Mack, then Garden promoter, rematched them for Braves Field on Aug. 20, 1930—Maloney-Bertazollo. Attndance, 26,379; receipts, $54.11.77.

Oct. 7, 1930—Jim Maloney vs. Primo Carra. Attendance, 12,403; receipt $56,919.87.

Basketbd on Way

"BOXIN(will rebound after the war," Powers prophesied. "Overseas tirnaments will bring out a lot ofew talent. And basketball is out ready to go bigtime in Bosn. It's a great game under the w rules."

Other Pors observations: Maloney was id for a $30,000 gate any time hought in Boston . . . The Brulnat one time sold so many seat tickets that only 2500 seats ere on sale at each game . . . Vin Morenz and Joliat were with nadiens, the Garden was sold on month in advance of the gam

Follies Aid Vet's Fund

The spectacular ice revue whirled onto the Boston Garden stage this afternoon when the Ice Follies' star-studded cast stages its matinee with every penny of the net proceeds to go to the Boston American-Record-Sunday Advertiser fund to cheer sick and wounded war veterans.

Eddie Shipstead, Oscar Johnson and all the great figure skating entertainers in the brilliant cast made one of the finest contributions ever to U. S. fighting men when they donated the entire program's receipts, less only taxes, to the fund.

Little need be said about the Follies, in whole or part. The thousands that already have been thrilled by the greatest show on ice, since the Tuesday opening, attest to the marvelous skating of soloists and the big chorus; the thrilling, lively music, and the colorful new costumes of the 1944 Follies.

Betty Atkinson, baton-twirler and acrobatic skater; Bobby Blake and Ruby Maxson, boy and girl waltzing pair; Oscar Johnson, comedian; Heinie Brock, another side-splitting ice comic, and Helen Brad, new dancing star. Also Frick and Frack, who make seemingly impossible skating tricks look easy; Norah McCarthy and Mike Kirby, great pair skaters, and Fran Claudet with Osborne Colson, another great pair; Hazel Franklin, one of England's finest ice artists, and all the others of the cast of 130-odd combine to make the Follies one of the most enthralling shows ever put together.

Durocher's Overseas Trip Called Off

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (INS)—That overseaes tour is off for Leo Durocher, manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Durocher, who has been in Florida entertaining troops in various camps, was planning to go abroad with a troupe of entertainers but Branch Rickey, president of the Dodgers club, said today that Durocher would be back in New York, Feb. 26, to open the Dodgers' spring training camp.

Royalty Attend England, Scotland Tilt

LONDON, Feb. 19 (AP)—King George, Queen Elizabeth, King Haakon of Norway, Princess Elizabeth and Gen. Montgomery were among the 80,000 who watched the English soccer team defeat Scotland, 6 to 2, in an international match today.

Receipts of $72,000 went to war charities. It was a record donation from a sports event in England since the start of the war.

Pioneer Award For Alonzo Stagg

BERKLEY, Cal., Feb. 19 (AP)—Alonzo A. Stagg, 81-year-old football coach at College of the Pacific and former mentor at the University of Chicago, was awarded the annual pioneer preeminent award by the area council of the Young Men's Christian Ass'n last night.

Eddie Shipstad Gets Draft Board Call

Eddie Shipstad, co-owner and producer of Ice Follies of 1944, left Boston yesterday to answer a call from his home draft board at Encino, Cal.

He will remain on the West Coast for his pre-induction examination. Eddie is married and has three children.

Army Ends Sports Debate

WASHINGTON, Feb. 19 (AP)—Those who have been demanding that Army men in college be allowed to have varsity sports can wrap up all their arguments in cotton now and set a match to it.

The Army, which has been saying "no" all along, clinched this drawn-out controversy yesterday by eliminating most of its specialized training program in colleges, asserting draft boards had left it 200,000 men short, the Army said most of the trainees in colleges and schools would be shifted to combat units. By April 1, the program will be washed up except for advanced dentistry, medicine and engineering.

The Army always has frowned on these trainees taking part in intercollegiate sports. High officers said the boys just didn't have the time.

The Navy has taken an opposite view and has permitted its trainees to participate.

Leader of the congressional bloc which sought to change the Army's mind was Rep. Weiss (D.) of Pennsylvania, former Duquesne backfield star and now a professional football referee.

Weiss contended the experience of body contact sports is what the doctor ordered for soldiers who must undergo the rough and tumble of the roughest war of all time. He kept after Army men, as high as Secretary of War Stimson, to no avail.

There have been as many as 145,000 Army men enrolled in various colleges, some of them topnotch athletes.

Elimination of the program could have further drastic effect on college sports. Educators say it will be a jolt to those schools whose income has been sadly depleted by the war.

B. C. Gridders Called by U. S.

With the departure of Don Shea and Charlie McCoy for the armed services, the B. C. football team which started against Harvard last fall in the Stadium is reduced to three members, the Boston College Athletic Association announced.

Shea came to the Heights from Milton High where he captained the football team; while McCoy captained the B. C. High squad of 1942 which came so close to winning the city football title. Operating at left end, Shea was a vicious blocker for the Eagles, throwing his 150 pounds around with the effect of a man twice his weight. McCoy will be best remembered for the capable fill-in job which he did in the Harvard game when Ed Doherty was injured.

Sam Price Takes Over Buckley's Gymnasium

Sam Price has taken over Johnny Buckley's gymnasium at 249 Friend st., here in Boston, and will be known from now on as Sam Price's Gym.

The gym has been completely renovated with new showers and lockers and newly painted. Equipment has been installed for boxers and wrestlers.

Bagby Demands Pay Hike Or Will Quit Baseball

ATLANTA, Feb. 19 (AP)—Pitcher Jim Bagby, returning his second unsigned 1944 contract, said today he would quit baseball unless the Cleveland Indians met his terms or traded him to another club.

The bomber plant tool designer said his terms include a substantial hike in pay and that he'd play for any other major league club "for less money than I made with the Indians."

"If any man deserved a raise on that club, I did," Bagby declared at his home. "I won't play for what I did last year and I probably couldn't get along with Manager Boudreau anyway."

The veteran flinger, who won 17 and lost 14 last season, admitted the spirit of the sport had passed him by. Said he:

"I used to enjoy playing ball. Right now it doesn't make a great deal of difference. It's just another job.

"I'm learning to make aircraft tools and getting a lot of enjoyment out of my war job. And I'll keep right on doing it before I pitch for the Indians again at the same pay. I've had my last argument with Cleveland and my last say. Either that club comes by me or trades me or I quit."

Bagby said he returned his second contra without "any comment."

His acth climaxed a longstanding fd with Manager Boudreau. "Ar," said the Georgian, "It's the la chapter so far as I am concerd."

ALGIES, Feb. 19 (AP)—An American lightweight and a French featherweight were crowned champions in the professional division of the Allied boxing tornament.

Florian Desmarais of Manchester, N. H., pounded out a decision over Cherifa Maamar of the French navy to capture the pro 135-pound crown while Rene Pons of the French navy captured the 126-pound championship.

Clapper's Status In Draft Puzzle

By BILL GRIMES

Who do you think worked out with the Olympics yesterday noon at the Arena?

None other than "Dit" Clapper, captain, coach and road secretary of the Bruins.

Immediately after the Bruins-Detroit game last Sunday night at the Garden, Clapper, along with Art Jackson and Herbie Cain, shed their hockey uniforms, climbed into their "civvies" and dashed for the South Station to catch the 11:15 train for Toronto.

Before that game no mention had been made that Clapper, Jackson and Cain were to leave for the Queen City before the Bruins, who went to Toronto last night. In fact, since the start of the current season, movements of hockey players have held priority over troop movements, in the opinion of Bruin bigwigs.

The Bruins' dressing room underground had Clapper, Jackson and Cain going home to rest up for tonight's game with the Maple Leafs in Toronto. There wasn't any mention of the fact that Clapper was returning to Canada to take his army physical. A week or so back, it had been highly publicized that "Dit's" number had come up and that he had reported to his local draft board.

TURNED DOWN IN CANADA

But, why did Clapper return from Toronto yesterday morning, work out with the Olympics and then go back with the Bruins last night?

You tell me, I don't know.

Now, it might be that having been rejected by the Canadian army, Clapper came back to check his status with the local draft board. After 17 seasons in the N. H. L. "Dit" Clapper isn't army timber. A year or so ago, Clapper's Achilles tendon was severed during a game in Toronto and that injury in itself should be sufficient cause to place him in 2-C in Canada and 4-F in the "States."

From a Toronto source, I learned that Clapper was turned down by the Canadian army authorities. And, also that he wasn't rejected because he was over the Canadian conscription age. But, because of numerous physical imperfections.

"Dit" Clapper is a Canadian but like numerous other hockey players, he registered for the American draft, upon the advice of the N. H. L., despite the fact he had a Canadian conscription card. He's not only married but too old to be called in Canada. But, when the American draft caught up with him, he, naturally, expressed a preference to enlist in the Canadian army.

Now, that in the opinion of the Canadian army, Clapper has some physical weaknesses and therefore couldn't be inducted into the armed forces, will the American authorities grab him?

If Clapper isn't physically fit to serve in the Canadian army, why should the American authorities draft him?

REFUSED TO COMMENT

For almost two decades, hockey fans have seen "Dit" Clapper take it and also hand it out in N.H.L. games in this country and Canada. And, the American and Canadian fans agree that he would be the last to attempt to dodge an obligation to his country in time of war.

While he was at the Arena yesterday, Clapper refused to make any comments upon his unexpected return. But, it wasn't necessary for him to come back here to work out for an hour with the Olympics. There's ice at the Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto and either Frank Selke or "Hap" Day would have loaned "Dit" a pair of skates, if the Bruin captain, coach and road secretary had let his hair down and hinted that the Sunday to Saturday lay off would impair his playing tonight.

But, for the answer to why he returned, you and I must wait until a later date.

B. C. TRACK TEAM IN N. Y. MEET TODAY

Coach Jack Ryder of Boston College took a squad of six men to the New York A. C. games today. Besides the fair to middling relay team that Jack has formed, there will be two additional entries for the Eagles. Ralph King, dash man from Cambridge, will be entered in the 60-yard dash, while Junior Champion Herb McKenley will try again in the 600. The Jamaican was thought to be out of the running for an invitation after his poor performance in the B. A. A. 600 last Saturday. However, the time of 50 seconds which Herb turned in for his lap of the relay made the New York Committee take notice.

Running as anchor man on the relay team will be James McNulty who ran for Boston Latin last year. When John O'Neill turned up with a dental operation before the B. A. A. games, Jim was called to fill in. At the Garden, he successfully fought off the bid of the Crusader team and carried B. C. through to the end. This is a remarkable performance for a man who was drafted for the relay team at the last minute.

Ski Celebrities Stage Own Tourney

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 19 (AP)—Some of the nation's best ski jumpers thought it would be fun—so they'll do their stuff Sunday at Engel Hill in big Cottonwood Canyon.

The friendly competition will include Lieut. Art Devlin, former national ski-jumping champion now stationed at the Salt Lake Air Base; Alf Engen, another former national champion in both jumping and racing, now a forest service employe at Ogden; Einer Fredbo, recognized as one of the great stylists of the sport, and two youthful Salt Lake City jumpers, Dick Movitz and Jack Reddish.

Ens. Bromley Retains Pole Vault Technique

CHICAGO, Feb. 19 (AP)—Ensign Clayton Bromley, a Navy student at the University of Chicago, will be a welcome member of the Maroon track team, says Coach Ned A. Merriam.

Bromley, a pole vaulter from Denison University of Granville, O., offered his services to Merriam one hour before a quadrangular meet a week ago. He won the pole vault event, although he has not had much practice since he graduated from Denison in 1938.

QUICK KAYO—Al Davis of Brooklyn pulled the biggest surprise in Gotham boxing circles last night when he knocked out Bob Montgomery, former lightweight champ, in the first round of a scheduled 10-rounder. The betting gentry that make the odds took it on the chin for the Negro boxer entered the ring a 4-to-1 favorite.

Hudson Icers Want Win Here for Coach

By MIKE GILLOOLY

A great coach—Tom Fielding—will be getting a grand reward—the championship of the Eastern Mass. Hockey League—tonight at the Arena when he sends his Hudson High School outfit into its final regular game of the season against the Wakefield six.

There's little doubt that Hudson will come through with a triumph for the boys are intent on handing their coach an undefeated slate.

But Wakefield will prove troublesome. This same team outtled the Hudson crew to a 7-5 count before going down to defeat. But they're eyeing a berth in the new State championship round robin which may be held during the early part of next month. Their headmaster has given them permission (are you listening, Boston schoolboys?) provided they get an invitation and it's hard to see how they can miss.

HOME A CLUBHOUSE

Coach Fielding must be admired for the way he has handled the boys. They aren't out on the ice working for themselves. They're only returning a few of the favors that the coach has done for them—and also showing their gratitude to Mrs. Pearl Fielding, wife of the coach.

Both have thrown themselves into the fight to establish Hudson High as a crackerjack outfit.

The pair have turned their home into a virtual clubhouse for the boys. They're up there night and day. As a matter of fact, Coach Fielding doesn't dare step to his desk in the dark for fear he'll trip over a hockey stick. Mrs. Fielding has taken it upon herself to keep the uniforms in good condition, sewing up jerseys, and she's probably the No. 1 rooter.

Coach Fielding himself takes charge of Tripp Pond for the winter. He goes out with the boys to clear the snow. He's marked off a rink for practices. He sprinkles the ice for better and faster surfaces. And the kids love him for it all.

The league championship is cinched but it will be a personal triumph for the Fieldings to have their team come through undefeated. It will be the 18th victory for the records in the past two years against one defeat with two ties thrown in. This season's record shows 10 straight—one outside game with St. Mark's.

Coach Fielding's type of hockey must be good. He teaches the three-man-break, bringing back his lines to start out from their own blue line as a wave. To back his theories, he has the two top-scoring lines in the circuit. He's just hoping that they face Medford in the planned State Championship play-offs.

There's actually no first line. It's an endless argument as to whether the John Holland, Bob Morgan, Leonard Bowen wave is better than the Dave O'Neil, Don Beauregard, James Jenkins trio.

Three other games will complete the program. These will find Natick tangling with Brookline in the opener slated for 7 p. m.; Dedham will square off against Malden and Lexington will tangle with Somerville. Then, the League will announce it's All-Star team and will try to arrange at least one game for the group.

Grant Powell Furlough

Ring Courage

EPSOM, Eng., Feb. 19 (AP)—Seven new boxing champions have been crowned by the Canadian army but the cheers of the servicemen go to a soldier who fought in the finals with a broken hand.

The 160-pound southpaw had suffered a broken bone in his left hand two months ago and had fractured it again in the semifinal only two hours before the title bout but he hid the fact from the doctors, knowing that he would be barred from the finals if he didn't.

The man with the broken hand, Egan, lost the decision to champion Marsh, a poker-faced lad who spent the half-hour before the scrap taking a nap in the noisy dressing room.

AL DAVIS K.O.'S MONTGOMERY IN ONE ROUND

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP) — Al Davis, Brooklyn's bad boy battler, is today's fistic toast of the town.

Four years ago he drew a lifetime suspension from New York rings, and a barrage of boos from the fans, for hitting Fritzie Zivic with a series of low blows.

Last night, his exile lifted since he returned from the army, he stepped back into Madison Sq. Garden's ring a 4-1 underdog to Bob Montgomery, Philadelphia's dusky star who until last November held the New York-Pennsylvania version of the lightweight title.

RECORD KNOCKOUT

Davis used his left hand as an eraser on all the bad things the boys have been saying about him. He kayoed the Philadelphian in one minute and three seconds of the first round.

It was the quickest knockout in the history of Madison Square Garden, and it was the first time Montgomery had been stopped in his colorful career. Outside of that, there wasn't much to the scrap.

Davis caught bouncing Bob with a left hook to the head and sent him down for a four count in the first 15 seconds. Montgomery staggered to his feet, backed to the ropes under a flurry of blows and finally took the full count as another left hook to the jaw connected.

NEVER GOT STARTED

Montgomery said after the fight that he "didn't get started," which was evident as he failed to make more than a pawing gesture or two to stave off Davis' whirlwind punching.

Promoter Mike Jacobs hopes to sign the rejuvenated Davis for an overweight match with Beau Jack for the Red Cross fund March 17.

LaChance Gets Split Verdict

"Lefty" LaChance, 130, Lewiston, Me., featherweight, was awarded a popular decision over Vince Dell 'Orto, 130, New York, in the feature 10-rounder of the Callahan A. C. boxing show in a fight that kept the 3500 fans on their feet for the full distance at Mechanics Hall.

Both judges, McMenimen and Curley, voted for LaChance and Referee Watson for Dell 'Orto. The show netted $3500.

Dell 'Orto came into the ring sporting a badly bruised left eye.

Howard Thompson, 203, Saugus, knocked out six-foot-seven, 250-pound, Gilbert Stromquist, Austin, Texas, in the eighth round of a scheduled 10-rounder with a right to the stomach. Until the eighth the local boy had his hands full with the tall Texan.

In another scheduled 10-rounder, Jim Mulligan, 170, Lowell, scored a technical kayo over Ben Deathpain, 169, New York, at the end of the first round.

Joe Sullick, 146, New York, and Sammy Daniels, 143½, Baltimore, fought a draw in the first 10-rounder.

Jap Record Goal Of Great Lakes Gobs

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Feb. 19 (AP)—Four Great Lakes sailors, who are thousands of miles removed from Navy battle stations, will be fighting pantomime Japanese today when they attempt to set a new world record in the 800-yard free style relay.

The swimming stars, headed by world record holder Bill Smith, will make a bid to erase the world record of 8 minutes, 24.2 seconds set by a Japanese team for the event in a meet at Honolulu shortly before Pearl Harbor.

Lefty Gomez Back After African Trip

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (INS)—Vernon (Lefty) Gomez, former Yankee pitching star, is back in New York today after a tour of Army hospitals in North Africa and dodging enemy bombs "with not a relief pitcher in sight."

Gomez, Jack Sharkey, former heavyweight boxing champion, and Freddy Corcoran, tournament manager, entertained wounded men, who, Gomez said, were interested chiefly in "what the home folks are doing."

Hanlon Heads 'Downs', Adams Racing Director

By WILL CONNELL

Gordon B. Hanlon of Weston, and John L. Arnold of Brookline today were named president and treasurer, respectively, of the Eastern Racing Ass'n, operators of Suffolk Downs.

They succeed Charles F. Adams and V. C. Bruce Wetmore, but the latter two men will remain in control of Suffolk, and the entire Downs family is the same as before the shift in corporation officials and board of directors.

Adams, veteran head of Suffolk, acquires a new title, director of racing, while Wetmore will be comptroller. Both are on the new board of directors.

DOWNS STAFF UNCHANGED

The stake events slate for the annual Downs race meeting, which today was granted dates by the State race commission from May 15 through July 22, stands as previously scheduled, with Racing Secretary Charley McLennan and his staff back on the job.

The new board of directors includes Ezra D. Hart of Andover, W. Edward Higbee of Watertown, Malcolm M. Bowen of Needham, and Robert P. Loring of Swampscott, in addition to Adams, Wetmore, Hanlon and Arnold.

Hanlon, of medium height and rather stocky, is only 36 years old. Arnold, tall and slim, is 38. Hart, Higbee, Bowen and Loring are in their forties.

At a meeting today in the Eastern racing offices, attended by Hanlon, Arnold and Wetmore, Adams said:

"In my opinion I have found just the kind of a youthful group of men I have wanted to take an interest in Suffolk Downs. Other groups have approached us, but have not been satisfactory to me.

"Besides racing, an understanding of financial matters is vital in conducting a track today. I believe the new group is exactly what has been sought."

ADAMS SEES HARMONY

Adams went on to say that his interests still are 100 per cent in racing, that he is director of the track, and that there would be no changes whatever in the track operation. He did not state just how much of the track's stock has been acquired by the new group headed by Hanlon.

He said they had acquired a "substatial interest", but that he anticipated that the voting in the future as in the immediate past would be 95 per cent united in support of track matters.

Adams did say that he considers the future of racing brighter than that of many businesses and that he sees no future developments which will be as difficult as obstacles overcome in the last couple of years.

Hanlon, who said he had no prior connection, with racing, is married, has no children, and makes his home in Weston. He has Boston ofices in Milk st., is head of the firm which bears his name, and is a member of the Boston Stock Exchange. His wife, Marguerite, was Phi Beta Kappa at Radcliffe, '42, and is completing work for her Master of Arts degree there this June.

ALL-AROUND SPORTSMAN

Hanlon never was a varsity type athlete at Dorchester High, but enjoyed all sports, was a member of the old BAA, a skater, a horseback rider since boyhood, and an enthusiastic skiier up to two years ago when he sustained such a serious compound leg fracture that he was rejected when he tried to enlist in the armed forces.

Hanlon studied at Suffolk Law and Harvard Business School.

Arnold graduated from Bowdoin, Northeastern Law and Harvard Business and is a practicing attorney. Arnold, Hart, Higbee, Bowen and Loring all are personal friends of Hanlon, and have been associated closely with him in financial circles in recent years.

Bill Hulse Out Of New York Mile

NEW YORK, Feb. 19 (AP)—Bill Hulse, America's fastest miler, withdrew from today's New York A. C. meet because of a streptococcic throat and immediately made the half-mile race the meet's feature event.

Hulse has been ill since Wednesday but was hopeful of getting his doctor's permission to run. It was denied, however, and the young chemist was ordered to remain in bed over the week-end.
